“ Uncle RL what such a sweetheart I went over there one day and sit with him while William did some errands I had the best time we said and talked about the cows how much it cost to feed them and how much cows are today but the one thing that he loved most was when William took him riding everyday he loved to get out of the house and just ride they would go get something to eat then go get the cows food and hay I even went out and took pictures of his cows while I was petting them
